in aending to the Smithsonian Institution his meteorological returns, says:

As the mail is sent by a man on mow shoes 80 miles and back at my private expense, I do not get off but one or two a month. Our winter, so far, has been very fine, though at little colder than usual; but the field of see is immense, beyond all example. I think there In 2,000 aquare miles more of ice north of the Manitou Islands than have been known before within the date of the earliest tradition. Nur feet of ice was found by cutting through off South For Island, where ice was never seen before. This is to be attributed as much to the stillness of the waste, as the severity of the cold. Very little ice is banked. Most of it remains undiaturbed where first formed.
